Art Trail 2021

25 - 26

September

Welcome

Welcome to the Green Door Art Trail, 2021.

Already it feels to have been a roller-coaster ride with expectations and predictions changing every couple of days. Back in Spring we had to decide whether to accept the risk of a cancelled trail or face the even worse scenario of having cancelled the trail only to find that people were moving freely again in September. At time of writing, it seems that we made the right choice, so I do hope things continue to improve and we can all enjoy an exciting and successful trail.

Lockdown has hit different artists in different ways. Some have found they could work well in the enforced isolation; others have found it totally depressing and stifling. We all now just want to get back to work and the stimulation of sharing it with others, so please visit as many venues as you can and help to make this a new beginning for everyone.

I make abstract and semi abstract paintings which are multi layered and mixed media. My interests in Archeology, maps, structures and the history and 'feel' of being in a place all contribute to the work I make. I am self-taught landscape artist based in Kendal, which affords me close proximity to the geographical and natural drama of the Lakeland Fells and Western Scotland. I have a tendency to paint those mountains and valleys that have left a lasting and intimate impression from previous encounters. For landscapes and seascapes, I paint predominantly in acrylics through an extensive process of layering to create texture and depth in mountainous or coastal scenes, reflecting the harsh reality of the natural environment.

Inspired by walks in the nearby Lake District and her travels to Scotland and its beautiful islands her paintings are usually in acrylic inks or mixed media. Most obvious in her work is the use of colour, line and contrast. Her paintings are expressive and evoke feelings of being outside in the wind, the sun or the rain. Paint is explored in a free and fluid way but the basis of drawing is always apparent.

Landscapes and shorelines are my main inspirations and I paint from my Crosby Garrett studio on the edge of the fells. My work has texture and is frequently multi layered. I use a variety of techniques to produce my desired effect. As a Green door member I have exhibited in many exhibitions, also at The Storey in Lancaster, a solo exhibition in Kendal and a solo at Brockhole.

The beautiful landscape around us provides a wealth of source material but I am constantly striving to find new topics and new ways of depicting these in felt, hand and machine embroidery and other textile techniques.

I hand build wildlife sculptures from clay. My inspiration comes from animals and birds around me in the beautiful Cumbrian countryside where I live. I am particularly fascinated by hares. I have worked in Tanzania so some of my pieces have an African theme. Each piece I make is individually made and unique. I try to give my sculptures a personality of their own and create an essence of the animal or person rather than being an exact copy.

My recent focus has been on colour, fluidity and my immersion in the creative process. Using floral and landscape subjects as a jumping off point, I embrace the ongoing dialogue between my subject, the materials and my own responses, easing the work towards abstraction with a focus on colour, texture and strong compositions. I will be sharing a selection of my recent work, from my initial studies to completed paintings. Cards and prints will also be available.

Artist recommendation

I do recommend a walk through Dallam Park to Beetham Garden Centre for more floral inspiration and cake!

Cally's landscapes aim to capture the unrelenting changes of weather, atmosphere and light whilst depicting the constants of form and place. Bold charcoal lines are drawn over the painted layers, giving a sense of pace and movement to the landscapes.
